

Initial Teacher Education (ITE) Programs Non-Academic Entry Criteria for International students

As part of the Australian Institute for Teaching and Leadership (AITSL) revised Standards and Procedures (2015), applicants to initial teacher education programs (pre-service teachers) must satisfy both academic and non-academic entry criteria for selection to this program.

All Queensland universities utilise the same procedure in order to satisfy the non-academic entry requirements. In other parts of Australia, a range of tests are utilised. Importantly, all Australian initial teacher education programs must have a process to satisfy non-academic entry criteria.

Applicants' non-academic capabilities will be assessed based on the submission of a 1000-word personal statement which must be submitted with their application.

In their personal statement, applicants must address two categories to describe their work and life experiences that demonstrate the AITSL competencies and their understanding of and motivation to study this initial teacher education program.

Category 1: Interest in teaching and children/young people

Write approximately 500 words/one page about your motivation and suitability for teaching.

You may consider the following prompts to frame your response:

- > Who or what has inspired you to become a teacher?

- > Why are you interested in teaching children/young people?
- > What subjects are you interested in teaching and why?
